BASIC CITY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Basic City, Va., June 14.—The Brandon continues to attract and hold the early summer crowd, and since the 2nd of May quite a jolly little colony, lately strongly reinforced by new arrivals, has been here. Among those last arriving are Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Patton of Danville, R. Carl Maxfield, Miss Gladys Maxwell and Neale Maxwell of Staunton, L. A. LeVick of Norfolk, E. L. Howell of Roanoke, J. R. H. Webb and Miss Mary Ella Webb of Staunton, C. G. Hest of Baltimore, Miss Alice Patterson of Staunton, Miss Cynthia Guich of Crozet, Miss Fannie Potts of Richmond, W. R. Carr of Roanoke, Mrs. H. L. Pritchard and H. L. Pritchard of Charlottesville, W. A. Walker of Harrisonburg, L. E. Harkness of Richmond, Mrs. George I. Briggs and George Briggs, Jr. of Norfolk, and Miss Frankie Taunt of Culpeper.

Seldom does one find a more lively and congenial set. Despite the cold wave which has been making the summer people shiver, the crowd has been having a thoroughly enjoyable time. The great throngs in the lobby are a rendezvous for all, and around these cards, music and other games flourish. Then the guests have been enjoying the open fire in their rooms. Several musicals have been held in the ballroom, and have been greatly enjoyed. Dancing comes in for its share of attention. Several automobile parties have been given, and many of the guests have made walking excursions. Some play tennis and some bowl, and devotees of the outdoors find plenty of room for amusement.

Wednesday evening a Mr. Springer and a Mr. Tindall of Wilmington, Del. two young college men, stopped at the Brandon, en route from Natural Bridge back home by foot. They have been on an extensively talking trip through the South, and seem to have been enjoying themselves immensely.
